Insider Trading Policy

Note: All references in this Policy to “SolarWindow Technologies, Inc.” or “SolarWindow” include its subsidiaries and affiliated entities. All capitalized words are defined in the “Definitions” section below.

POLICY STATEMENT

It is the policy and practice of SolarWindow Technologies to comply strictly with laws governing the use of Material Non-Public Information, sometimes more commonly referred to as “inside information.” The unlawful use or communication of Material Non-Public Information by SolarWindow directors, officers, employees and other service providers could have dire consequences for SolarWindow and such persons. As such, all SolarWindow personnel are required to be familiar with this Policy and comply with the procedures described below. Anyone with questions as to the application of this Policy should contact SolarWindow’s Chief Executive Officer or another member of its Compliance Committee.

BACKGROUND

This Policy sets forth procedures that all SolarWindow directors, officers, employees and service providers are required to follow. The purpose of this Policy is not only to address your obligations, but also to avoid any situation that could damage SolarWindow’s reputation for integrity and ethical conduct.

Under most circumstances, federal law prohibits:

- (i) the purchase or sale of Securities of any entity while in possession of Material Non-Public Information about such entity;
- (ii) communication of Material Non-Public Information to another person who trades on the information or who passes the information on to another who trades, which is known as “tipping;” and
- (iii) the misappropriation (i.e., dishonest taking) of Material Non-Public Information from any entity about another entity’s Security.

The Insider Trading and Securities Fraud Enforcement Act of 1988 authorizes the imposition of substantial penalties for violation of the insider trading laws. A person who has violated the insider trading laws, including, a person who shares inside information with another person who trades on the information, i.e. a “tipper,” may be subject to a criminal penalty of up to $5,000,000 and twenty years in prison, and a civil penalty of up to the greater of $1,000,000 or three times the profit gained or loss avoided as a result of such unlawful purchase, sale or communication.

INSIDER TRADING AND OTHER PROHIBITED ACTIVITIES

Trading SolarWindow Securities

If you become aware of Material Non-Public Information relating to SolarWindow that has not subsequently been disclosed to the public for a reasonable period of time to allow the securities markets the opportunity to digest the information, then you cannot commit to any transaction restricted by this Policy. The period of time necessary for the public to digest the information may vary based upon the facts of each situation, but generally at least one (1) business day should elapse between the first public disclosure of Material Non-Public Information and any trading. The restrictions set forth in this Policy also apply to your Family Members as well as trusts and other entities owned or controlled by you.

Transactions restricted by this Policy include all transactions in SolarWindow Securities, including sales of SolarWindow Securities acquired through the exercise of stock options, as well as fund transfers involving SolarWindow stock in an existing investment account in 401(k) plans, SolarWindow’s deferred compensation plan or any other SolarWindow benefit plans.

The following transactions are not restricted by this Policy:

- purchases of shares through the exercise of employee stock options: (a) by tendering cash or shares to SolarWindow to pay the exercise price or related tax withholding; or (b) through a net share settlement method; however, the sale of stock to obtain the cash needed to exercise an option or pay withholding taxes, or the sale of stock acquired upon the exercise of an option, is restricted by this Policy;
- automatic purchases pursuant to SolarWindow’s 401(k) or other benefit plans or dividend reinvestment plans pursuant to a pre-existing election;
- bona fide gifts of SolarWindow Securities unless you know the recipient intends to sell the SolarWindow Security promptly upon receipt;

- sales pursuant to written plans, which comply with this Policy (as described below);
- withholding of stock to pay applicable withholding taxes upon the vesting of restricted stock; and
- trades approved by SolarWindow’s Compliance Committee (or his or her designee) which are otherwise permitted under applicable law.

No Hedging of SolarWindow Securities

No director, officer or employee may purchase securities or other financial instruments that Hedge, or are designed to Hedge, the value of any SolarWindow Security. These transactions commonly involve short sales, “puts,” “calls,” options, swaps, collars, forward sales or similar derivative instruments. Directors and executive officers of SolarWindow are prohibited by law from making any short sale (i.e., sale of securities not owned at the time of sale) of SolarWindow’s stock. In addition, in-and-out trading involving holding of securities for brief periods and other speculative transactions in the SolarWindow Securities are strictly prohibited.

Prohibition on Pledging of SolarWindow Securities

No director or Executive Officer may enter into any transaction to pledge, or use as collateral, any SolarWindow Securities to secure personal loans or other obligations, including holding any SolarWindow Securities in a margin account.

Window Periods for Trades of SolarWindow Securities

No person in the categories described below, or their Family Members, may commit to any transaction restricted by this Policy involving a SolarWindow Security, except during a Window Period.

1. Members of the Board of Directors of SolarWindow Technologies;
2. Executive Officers and Section 16 Officers; and
3. Those persons or groups of persons identified on Exhibit A to this Policy, which may be amended by the Company’s Compliance Committee from time to time.

In addition, members of SolarWindow's Board of Directors, Executive Officers and Section 16 Officers, and other persons notified by SolarWindow's Legal Department must also have any transactions in SolarWindow Securities pre-approved by SolarWindow's Compliance Committee.

Note, a Window Period is a SolarWindow compliance requirement and does not constitute a legal right to trade in SolarWindow Securities. Accordingly, even during Window Periods, if you are in possession of Material Non-Public Information about SolarWindow, you may not trade in SolarWindow Securities. In addition, SolarWindow can impose a trading moratorium that prohibits trading in SolarWindow Securities during a certain period, including during a Window Period.

All other persons subject to this Policy which are not listed in the categories above should use their own judgment in determining whether it is appropriate under this Policy to enter into a particular transaction. However, SolarWindow encourages you to restrict your trading in SolarWindow Securities to Window Periods.

If you have any questions regarding transactions in SolarWindow Securities or this Policy, please consult with SolarWindow's Compliance Committee.

Confidentiality of Material Non-Public Information

You cannot directly or indirectly disclose Material Non-Public Information prior to its public disclosure to any other person who could use the information to trade in a SolarWindow Security. No person subject to this Policy may:

- communicate such information to anyone outside of SolarWindow other than for legitimate corporate purposes, where appropriate steps have been taken to prevent the misuse of such information;
- communicate such information within SolarWindow, except on a need-to-know basis, in the ordinary course of business, when you have no reason to believe the information will be misused;
- recommend someone to purchase, sell or retain SolarWindow Securities when you are in possession of Material Non-Public Information; or
- engage in any other action to take personal advantage of Material Non-Public Information.

You should consult with SolarWindow's Compliance Committee before disclosing

Material Non-Public Information to ensure that you do not violate the Policy.

Trading in SolarWindow Securities pursuant to Written Plans

The sections of this Policy restricting trading in SolarWindow Securities does not apply to trades made pursuant to a written plan meeting the requirements of this Policy and Rule 10b5-1 of the Exchange Act. Rule 10b-5-1 permits an individual with Material Non-Public Information to trade in specific circumstances where it is clear that the information that the individual is aware of is not a factor in the decision to trade, in this case, when the trade is made pursuant to a pre-existing plan, contract or instruction that was made in good faith.

However, trading pursuant to a written plan only provides an affirmative defense against claims of insider trading under Rule 10b-5 of the Exchange Act. Trading under written plans does not exempt Section 16 Officers and directors from the short-swing profit liability provisions of Section 16 of the Exchange Act. Therefore, all written plans for such officers and directors should be drafted to ensure that Section 16 of the Exchange Act will not be violated.

To comply with this Policy and Rule 10b5-1, you must not be in possession of Material Non-Public Information at the time you enter into the written plan. Accordingly, written plans should generally be entered into during open Window Periods. The written plan should be executed by you and the person who will direct the trading before any transactions occur. Further, the written plan must (the “Plan Requirements”):

- specify the amount of SolarWindow Securities to be purchased or sold, the price or prices at which the SolarWindow Securities are to be traded and the date and dates on which the SolarWindow Securities are to be purchased or sold; or
- include a written formula or algorithm, or computer program for determining the amount, price and date; and/or
- give discretion over trading decisions to a third party who is not and does not come into possession of Material Non-Public Information and over whom you do not exercise any subsequent influence over the trading decisions.

The actual purchases or sales must be pursuant to the written plan without altering or deviating from it or entering into or attaining a corresponding or hedging transaction or position. The written plan must have been entered into in good faith and not as part of a plan or scheme to evade the purposes of this Policy or the securities laws. A reasonable period of time should elapse from the execution of the plan and the first transactions under the plan. Although this period of time may vary depending upon facts and circumstances, it is recommended that transactions under the plan should commence no earlier than thirty (30) days following the execution of the plan.

Finally, all written plans for SolarWindow personnel subject to the Window Periods, must be submitted sufficiently in advance to the Compliance Committee to review the proposed Trading Plan for meeting Plan Requirements.

Trading Non-SolarWindow Securities

SolarWindow's reputation with its customers and other business partners depends on the trust and confidence we have established with them. Maintaining the confidentiality of information SolarWindow receives from them, including their actions and expected plans, is fundamental to that trust and confidence. In order to maintain it, all persons subject to this Policy are prohibited from using Material Non-Public Information of any customer, supplier or other current or prospective business partner to trade in their Securities. Material Non-Public Information obtained by persons subject to this Policy about any business entities with which SolarWindow works, whether or not in the course of their work for SolarWindow, should not be communicated to anyone in violation of any law, regulation or other applicable requirement.

All persons are strictly prohibited from using any Material Non-Public Information obtained at or through their employment or relationship with SolarWindow for any non-SolarWindow business purpose. No person may, under any circumstances, use confidential information obtained at or through SolarWindow, or from any sources, in deciding whether to buy, sell or hold Non-SolarWindow Securities, or in assisting others in making such a decision.

DEFINITIONS

SolarWindow Security

Includes any security issued by SolarWindow, its subsidiaries or affiliates, including securities issued by any person that derive their value from the value of a security issued by SolarWindow, its subsidiaries or affiliates, such as phantom stock or stock units you may acquire through SolarWindow's benefit plans.

Executive Officer

Executive officer means any SolarWindow officer who is designated by SolarWindow's board of directors as an executive officer.

Family Members

Includes your spouse, children (including adopted children and step-children), grandchildren, siblings, parents, grandparents, and any in-laws with which you share your household. This Policy also covers SolarWindow Securities held by trusts (of which you are a trustee or beneficiary) as well as partnerships, LLCs or corporations that you directly or indirectly control. Control is presumed to exist if you are a director or executive officer of such an entity or if you beneficially own more than 10% of such entity's voting securities.

Hedge

Includes any security transaction that reduces the risk on an already existing investment position in a SolarWindow Security, including the purchase or sale of options, puts, calls, straddles, equity swaps or other derivatives linked to a SolarWindow Security.

Material Non-Public Information

Any information (whether fact, development or intended action) that a reasonable investor would consider significant in determining whether to buy, sell, or hold a company's securities, such as information that could reasonably be expected to affect the market price of such securities. Both positive and negative information may be material. It is impossible to give an exhaustive list of all types of material events, but the following illustrated items are often considered to be material:

- information originating within SolarWindow with respect to its earnings and sales;
- earnings guidance;
- significant balance sheet, capital and ratings issues;
- mergers, acquisitions, divestitures, tender offers, joint ventures, or changes in assets;
- changes in auditors or auditor notification that the issuer may no longer rely on an audit report;
- events regarding SolarWindow Securities (e.g., defaults, calls of securities for redemption, repurchase plans, stock splits or changes in dividends, changes to the rights of securityholders, public or private sales of additional securities or information related to any additional funding);
- changes in key management; and

- unusual and other major business developments.

It may also include information originating outside SolarWindow such as planned sales or purchases of SolarWindow Securities by third parties.

Information is non-public if it has not been disseminated in a manner reasonably designed to provide broad, non-exclusionary distribution of the information to the public as above described.

Non-SolarWindow Security

Includes any security issued by any entity other than SolarWindow, its subsidiaries or affiliates, including any securities issued by any person that derive their value from the value of a security issued by such entity, such as phantom stock or stock units.

Policy

This Insider Trading Policy, as may be amended from time to time.

Section 16 Officer

Section 16 Officer is any officer of SolarWindow who is notified that he/she is subject to Section 16 of the Exchange Act.

Security

Includes any security issued by any entity, including common stock, preferred stock, debt securities, warrants and stock purchase rights as well as option positions on any of these (including puts, calls and straddles), whether publicly or privately traded.

Window Periods

The period in which SolarWindow generally permits certain categories of its personnel (referred to above and on Exhibit A) to trade SolarWindow Securities. The Window Period typically begins on the first business day following the [quarterly earnings release/filing of the Form 10-Q] and ends on the first business day immediately preceding the close of the fiscal quarter. The exact dates for each Window Period will be announced and communicated by the Compliance Committee.

COMPLIANCE

SolarWindow recognizes that even innocent actions can potentially create an appearance of impropriety, and that this appearance alone could damage the reputation of SolarWindow. The policies and the other procedures set forth herein were designed with this “appearance” issue in mind. It goes without saying that the actual misuse of Material Non-Public Information – whether or not the information is obtained through SolarWindow and whether or not involving the purchase or sale of a SolarWindow Security or Non-SolarWindow Security – is, of course, prohibited.

SolarWindow expects the strictest compliance with this Policy. Failure to comply with it may result in serious legal consequences for the person involved as well as for SolarWindow. Failure to follow the letter and spirit of this Policy would be considered a basis for disciplinary action, including, termination of employment or relationship with SolarWindow, and may expose the violator to serious civil and criminal penalties.

This Policy also applies to Family Members of directors, officers, employees and each person who has any fiduciary relationship to SolarWindow, such as consultants, bankers, accountants, legal counsel and other agents. Such persons are responsible for informing the Family Members sharing their personal household about this Policy and their compliance obligations.

If you have any doubt or uncertainty as to your responsibilities under this Policy, you should seek clarification and guidance from SolarWindow’s Compliance Committee. You should not try to resolve any uncertainties on your own.
